

The procurement department recently met with Nora Kim of Aster Consulting to discuss potential collaboration on digital transformation initiatives.

Kim presented several case studies showing how data governance frameworks improved operational transparency in banking environments.

After the meeting, she shared additional materials through the company website at <https://aster-example.com/contracts> and encouraged the team to reach out if further details were required.

She can also be contacted via email at nora.kim@aster-example.com.